JW Lees – Berry Rumble 4.2%

Seasonal forest fruit red ale with a warming mahogany color, featuring a fruity and biscuity finish with a touch of sweetness

Nene Valley – Egyptian Cream 4.5%

Milk stout known for its velvety mouthfeel and balanced sweetness. Sweet milk chocolate, cocoa, and smooth mocha, rounded out by a gentle lactose sweetness and mild, mellow roastiness.

North Riding – Irish Cream Porter 4.5%

Robust Dark Porter. Delivers a smooth, indulgent body on the tongue. The robust malt backbone blends seamlessly with pronounced flavors of milk chocolate, creamy vanilla, and sweet caramel-toffee.

Orkney – Dragonhead Stout 4%

Deep black pour with a thick, creamy khaki head and good retention. Rich roast malt and roast barley combine with layers of chocolate, toasted grain, nut, and a touch of dark fruit or liquorice.

Ossett – White Rat 4%

Pale golden, light yellow, or slightly hazy straw-gold body with a fluffy, lasting white head. A crisp, light bready and grainy malt sweetness up front, quickly overtaken by an assertive, lip-puckering hop bitterness. Look for mid-palate flavors of orange peel, resin, and zesty citrus.

Pheasantry – Dancing Dragonfly 5%

Pale golden blonde ale. A subtle, well-balanced blend of mixed fruit characters backed by light bitter pithy grapefruit, a touch of dried mixed peel, and a smooth malt base.

Rudgate – Battleaxe 4.2%

A traditional chestnut-colored best bitter. A well-rounded blend of biscuit malt, toffee, nutty undertones, and complex dark fruit flavors, balanced by a crisp, moderate-to-high hop bitterness.

Taylors – Landlord Dark 4.3%

Dark ale that pours a deep ruby-brown colour. Smooth, creamy, and quietly complex, featuring flavors of chocolate, caramel, subtle citrus, and roasted malts balanced by traditional earthy hops.

Titanic – Plum Porter 4.9%

Dark, well-rounded speciality fruit porter. Soft, sweet plum and stone fruit flavors upfront that lighten the depth on the palate, balanced by a delicate backdrop of classic hops (including Goldings and Pilgrim) providing a slightly dry, hoppy finish.

Woodfordes – Wherry 3.8%

Amber ale (ordinary bitter). Inviting mix of sweet, bready, biscuity malts paired with a refreshing citrus, lemon, and floral hop character
